The New York Times Magazine, 2007 Is This Seat Taken? Kristin S. Kaufman, 2015-01-13 Now what do I do I dare say there is not a single person who at least once in his or her life has not faced an unexpected situation a newfound reality a daunting challenge or veiled opportunity and not wondered what to do You may feel that you have made poor choices that your opportunities have passed you by or that you're playing musical chairs the music has stopped and all the seats are taken This book is for those individuals like you who have come to a fork in the road chosen a path and found themselves twenty to thirty or more years later in a destination they didn't quite recognize But the stories are relevant for anyone at any age at any station in life who has awakened and wondered what they are going to do next or how will they move forward I want to offer hope inspiration and applicable lessons as derived from the lives of well known and not so famous men and women who found new and unexpected success by many definitions late in life My hope is that these remarkable transformational stories will light a spark whether you are twenty five or sixty five to take back the reins of your life and become clear on exactly what you are going to do now and how you wish to contribute to the world The music has not stopped and there is still time to find your seat

Alla Myzelev, 2017-07-05 Challenging the notion that fashion and furniture were or are separate enterprises and distinct material aesthetic traditions this collection focuses on three material and conceptual links central to understanding the relationship between interior design and fashion the body fabric and space The volume considers the changing visual material and spatial character methodological challenges posed by and formal political and historiographical significance of a wide range of British European and North American case studies since the eighteenth century The volume's eleven case studies allow the reader to understand connecting notions behind the formation of interiors and fashionable clothing The essays combine a wide range of significant and challenging new examples alongside powerful reversionary analyses of the various periods artists designers and their best and significant objects Fashion Interior Design and the Contours of Modern Identity is concerned not only with fabric but also with the body and the implications of embodiment in the practices of both design domains which are equally invested in the comfort aesthetic pleasure extension and support of the body in different and yet seemingly identical ways
