Practices of Comparing Angelika Epple, Walter Erhart, Johannes Grave, 2020-06-22 Practices of comparing shape how we perceive organize and change the world. Supposedly innocent practices of comparing play a decisive role in forming categories boundaries and hierarchies but they can also give an impetus to question and change such structures. Like almost no other human practice comparing pervades all social political economic and cultural spheres. This volume outlines the program of a new research agenda that places comparative practices at the center of an interdisciplinary exploration. Its contributions combine case studies with overarching systematic considerations. They show what insights can be gained and which further questions arise when one makes a seemingly trivial practice comparing the subject of in depth research. A Night at the Gardens Russell Field, 2023-04-28 When Toronto's Maple Leaf Gardens opened in 1931 manager Conn Smythe envisioned an arena that would project an aura of middle class respectability. In A Night at the Gardens Russell Field shares how this new arena anticipated spectators by examining varying spectator behaviours who the spectators were and what the experience of spectating was like. Drawing on archival records the book explores the neighbourhood in which Maple Leaf Gardens was situated the design of the arena's interior spaces and the ways in which the venue was operated in order to appeal to respectable spectators at a particular intersection of class and gender. Oral history interviews with former spectators at Maple Leaf Gardens detail the experience of watching the spectacle that unfolded on the ice during each hockey game. A Night at the Gardens tells the fascinating story of how one prominent public building became such an important part of Toronto society.
