Transforming Graduate Biblical Education:

Transforming Graduate Biblical Education Elisabeth Schüssler Fiorenza, Kent Harold Richards, 2010 This unique collection of essays originating in seminars held at SBL's Annual and International Meetings explores the current ethos and discipline of graduate biblical education from different social locations and academic contexts It includes international voices of well established scholars who have urged change for some time alongside younger scholars with new perspectives The individual contributions emerge from a variegated set of experiences in graduate biblical studies and a critical analysis of those experiences The volume is divided into four areas of investigation The first section discusses the ethos of biblical studies and social location and the second explores different cultural national formations of the discipline The third section considers the experiences and visions of graduate biblical studies while the last section explores how to transform the discipline All the contributions offer ways to transform graduate biblical education so that it becomes a socializing power that in turn can transform the present academic ethos of biblical studies Back cover

Leadership in Place Jon F. Wergin, 2007 In this stimulating collection of stories ten academic leaders reflect from personal experience on leadership in place an emergent mode of leadership that brings people together in order to effect organizational change Originating from diverse sectors of the academy each of the book's contributors brings a fresh and deeply human perspective on academic leadership theories and their effective applications Leadership in Place calls for a shift in attitude about leaders and leadership It departs from the hierarchical view that academic leadership flows from a leadership position and instead embraces a more lateral view where leadership roles are available to everyone It calls for a rethinking of how our colleges and universities are led and organized by discussing the following Importance of strong academic communities in preserving the integrity of academic programs Empowerment of part time faculty by combining adaptive and transformative learning models Opportunities for benefits of and challenges in collaborative leadership Problems that can emerge in times of leadership transitions and possible solutions Concept of leadership as an attribute of the many rather than the few Advocating for academics to reengage and recommit to their institutions the book creates an agenda for what higher education must do to create conditions under which leadership in place is the norm rather than the exception Christian Education in Theological Focus George M. Transforming Theological Education Perry Shaw, 2014-05-14 For several decades concern has been expressed about the need for greater integration and contextual significance in the curricular design of theological education In addition there has been a growing awareness of the role theological schools should play in strengthening the missional vision and practice of local churches Since 2008 the Arab Baptist Theological Seminary in Lebanon has been engaged in an ongoing experiment in the design and implementation of an integrated and contextually driven curriculum Drawing on lessons learned from this experience and from the wider discourse currently taking place in higher education Transforming Theological Education provides theoretical foundations and practical principles for purposeful curriculum design as well as tools for integrated and contextually significant learning in the classroom
