What Is AI?

AI is a computer system that mimics human intelligence. It can learn from data and make decisions based on that information.

The History of AI

In 1943, British mathematician Alan Turing wrote about his idea of an intelligent machine that could use its own thinking and give information to itself and follow a set of instructions.

After a few years, computers and technology had improved enough that the computer thinking was able to make one of the first AI programs in 1950. In 1956, American John McCarthy created the term "artificial intelligence." In 1956, Allen Newell, John McCarthy, and Herbert A. Simon created the first program to solve problems with human-like intelligence.

As time went on, knowledge of computers, AI, and technology grew. In 1997, an AI computer named Deep Blue won a chess game against the reigning world chess champion, Garry Kasparov. In 1998, American scientist built a robot, an advanced humanoid robot.
