Integrating Human Factors Methods and Systems Thinking for Transport Analysis and Design Gemma J. M. Read, Vanessa Beanland, Michael G. Lenné, Neville A. Stanton, Paul M. Salmon, 2017-07-26 Governments and road safety agencies around the world have either introduced or are considering safe system strategies a long overdue acknowledgement that different elements of the road system contribute to road safety outcomes Human factors approaches have a leading role here in both conceptualising the road system as a complex sociotechnical system and in providing practical approaches to support true systems based countermeasures This book illustrates the potential for integrating contemporary systems based human factors methods with modern day driving assessment methods such as vehicle instrumentation and driving simulation to understand and enhance performance in modern day road transport systems The book outlines why a fundamental paradigm shift is needed in the way these systems are designed and operated and illustrates how a wide range of accepted human factors approaches can be applied successfully to road transport to revolutionise the countermeasure design process The practical illustrations of these human factors methods are applied to a long standing road and rail safety issue rail level crossings where the road and rail systems intersect The final chapter of the book highlights the utility of the human factors approach to reducing road trauma and discusses future applications of the approach Performing Arts Books, 1876-1981 ,1981 Popular Mechanics ,1983-08 Popular Mechanics inspires instructs and influences readers to help them master the modern world Whether it's practical DIY home improvement tips gadgets and digital technology information on the newest cars or the latest breakthroughs in science PM is the ultimate guide to our high tech lifestyle QCD Radiation in Top-Antitop and Z+Jets Final States Kiran Joshi, 2015-06-12 This thesis contains new research in both experimental and theoretical particle physics making important contributions in each Two analyses of collision data from the ATLAS experiment at the LHC are presented as well as two phenomenological studies of heavy coloured resonances that could be produced at the LHC The first data analysis was the measurement of top quark antiquark production with a veto on additional jet activity As the first detector corrected measurement of jet activity in top antitop events it played an important role in constraining the theoretical modelling and ultimately reduced these uncertainties for ATLAS's other top quark measurements by a factor of two The second data analysis was the measurement of Z 2jet production and the observation of the electroweak vector boson fusion VBF component As the first observation of VBF at a hadron collider this measurement demonstrated new techniques to reliably extract VBF processes and paved the way for future VBF Higgs measurements The first phenomenological study developed a new technique for identifying the colour of heavy resonances produced in proton proton collisions As a by product of this study an unexpected and previously unnoticed correlation was discovered between the probability of correctly identifying a high energy top and the colour structure of the event it was produced in The second phenomenological study explored this relationship in more detail and could have important consequences for the identification of new particles that decay to top quarks
