Sustaining Innovation Creating Nonprofit And Government Organizations That Innovate Naturally:

Sustaining Innovation Paul Charles Light,1998-02-13 Based on an extensive study of 26 public and nonprofit organizations in a wide variety of fields Sustaining Innovation reveals that organizations that are flexible and adaptable are the ones that innovate most successfully In this unique guide Light gives managers the know how and the tools to overcome obstacles to innovation and debunks the myths that create those obstacles Innovations in Government Sandford F. Borins,2009-12-01 The Innovations in American Government Awards Program began in 1985 with a grant from the Ford Foundation to the Kennedy School of Government at Harvard to conduct a program of awards for innovations in state and local government The foundation's objective was ambitious and in an era of government is the problem rhetoric determinedly proactive It sought to counter declining public confidence in government by highlighting innovative and effective programs Over twenty years later research recognition and replication are the source of the program's continuing influence and its vitality What is the future of government innovation How can innovation enhance the quality of life for citizens and strengthen democratic governance Innovations in Government Research Recognition and Replication answers these questions by presenting a comprehensive approach to advancing the practice and study of innovation in government The authors discuss new research on innovation explore the impact of several programs that recognize innovation and consider challenges to the replication of innovations Contributors include Eugene Bardach University of California Berkeley Robert Behn Harvard University John D Donahue Harvard University Marta Ferreira Santos Farah Center for Public Administration and Government Fundação Getulio Vargas Archon Fung Harvard University Jean Hartley University of Warwick Steven Kelman Harvard University Gowher Rizvi Ash Institute for Democratic Governance and Innovation Harvard University Peter Spink Center for Public Administration and Government Fundação Getulio Vargas and Jonathan Walters Governing Innovation in Public Services Stephen Osborne,Louise Brown,Richard Walker,2017-10-02 In response to changes in internal needs external organizational environments and the expectations of shareholders most notably citizens and politicians innovation is now an important common place aspect of governance and the running of public service organizations Given the ongoing financial and economic crisis which presents a significant challenge to public service organizations PSOs there is a growing need to establish innovative strategies in order to survive the crisis and provide the basis for future sustainable growth This book contributes towards the discussion of PSO innovation through theoretically informed empirical studies of innovation across a range of theories topics and fields Studies examine the role of citizens managers and public service organizations the adoption diffusion implementation and management of innovations collaboration communication and information technologies and decision making ethical principles HR management leadership and procurement The studies which examine the situation in a range of countries in Europe and Asia cover a range of different organizations such as non profits health service organizations and local governments This book was originally published as a special issue of Public Management

Review Handbook of Innovation in Public Services Stephen P. Osborne, Louise Brown, 2013-01-01 Innovation is a core issue for public services and is a key element of public services reform particularly in this age of austerity where policymakers urge the need to innovate to do more with less This comprehensive and accessible Handbook explores the potential for creating efficient and effective public services Leading researchers from across the globe review the state of the art in research on innovation in public services providing an overview of key issues from a multi disciplinary perspective Topics explored include context for innovation in public services and public service reform managerial change challenges ICT and e government and collaboration and networks The theory is underpinned by seven wide ranging case studies of innovation in practice Taking the field forward and providing a baseline for future research this highly unique and original Handbook will prove essential reading for academics researchers students policymakers and practitioners across the fields of innovation public policy social policy and public management

Governance Structures and Mechanisms in Public Service Organizations Andrea Calabò, 2011-08-06 This book addresses the nexus of issues exploring governance structures and mechanisms in public service organizations thus contributing to the development of disciplines that focus on public management It goes beyond the state of the art by addressing a number of specific issues in a more systematic fashion The book's interdisciplinary focus is a particularly valuable asset as its topic is situated at the crossroads of a number of fields including public management business administration corporate governance policy studies political science sociology and third sector studies all of which offer important perspectives and are important for the development of public management and public services The book covers more than Italy and Norway and focuses specifically on public service organizations addressing more aspects of their governance structures and mechanisms than any other book available today The unique presentation of features related to the governance and management of different actors state owned enterprises local public utilities ministries municipalities citizens etc involved at different levels in the production and provision of public services makes it possible to compare and contrast these different perspectives and opens new avenues of theoretical collaboration and development

On Being Nonprofit Peter Frumkin,2005-09-06 Frumkin clarifies the debate over the nonprofit sector's privileged position in America by examining how nonprofits deliver services promote civic engagement express values and faith and channel entrepreneurial impulses He argues that long term challenges facing nonprofits necessitate a greater balance among these four central functions Innovation and Diffusion of Information Technology in Non-competitive Environments as Typified by County and Local Governments Andrew Peter Jansma,2003 Getting to "go" William Scott Rizzo,2001

Journal of Management Research & Development ,2011-09 Dialogue California. Judicial Council. Special Task Force on Court/Community Outreach,1998 Professional Autonomy and Collective Endeavor in Academic Departments Kristen Andrée Grace,2002 Learning from Starting Points ,1998 Managing Think Tanks Raymond J. Struyk,2002 Making Nonprofits Work Paul Charles Light,2000 The nonprofit sector has never been under greater pressure to prove itself With missions expanding and funding never more competitive the sector suffers from a general impression that it is less efficient and more wasteful than its government and private competitors Its funders be they governments charitable foundations or individual givers have never seemed so insistent about economy and results while its clients be they communities or individuals have never been more demanding about efficiency and responsiveness How the nonprofit sector does its work is becoming almost as important to funders and clients as what the sector actually delivers by way of goods and services The problem is that there is virtually no agreement on just how nonprofits can improve Unlike the federal government the nonprofit sector is still at the beginning of its reform journey and its networks of consultants management associations and scholars are only beginning to develop the research base to know what reforms might work under what conditions In Making Nonprofits Work Paul C Light charts the current trends of management reform in the nonprofit sector and assesses the climate for reform at the local and national levels Light examines the four popular philosophies or tides being advocated scientific management liberation management war on waste and watchful eye offering examples and caveats from a portfolio of recent experience Drawing on confidential interviews with leaders in nonprofit management reform a detailed search of Internet sources and a survey of state associations of nonprofit organizations Light's findings suggest that the nonprofit sector has a remarkable opportunity to prevent the excesses and fadism that have dominated reform efforts in government and the private sector He cautions leaders in the nonprofit sector to recognize the limits of various reform models to set priorities carefully and to limit investments of reform energy to a handful of priorities Finally he urges reformers to boost the sector's ability to implement new systems and reforms by focusing more closely on capacity building
