Tourism, Tradition and Culture David Harrison, 2020-11-18 David Harrison has contributed to the academic study of tourism over the last 30 years This book brings together a collection of his published material that reflects the role played by tourism in development both in societies emerging from Western colonialism and in societies previously part of the Soviet system The overarching theme looks at how promoted as a tool for development tourism can lead to conflict between competing elites but can also empower groups previously subject to constraint by traditional authorities Tradition is intensely manipulatable and always reflects power relations Such pressure on tradition is but one aspect of tourism's wider social impacts This includes changes in economic and social structure which for many constitute social problems that need to be addressed At the same time sustainability though apparently a worthy aim can be a problematic concept especially when applied to traditional cultures and may conflict with such ideals as egalitarianism Critical Debates in Tourism Tej Vir Singh, 2012 The book is a landmark volume which examines perplexing tourism debates such as the relevance of mass tourism climate change authenticity tourism and poverty and slow tourism Multidisciplinary in content it covers applied aspects of sociology anthropology humanities and biosciences The book is unique in its presentation and style and will be an essential resource for scholars academics and practitioners Tourism in China David Airey, King Chong, 2011-04-20
