The Surgeon's Log James Johnston Abraham, 1911 The Surgeon's Log James Johnston Abraham, 2015-07-12 Excerpt from The Surgeon's Log Being Impressions of the Far East It is almost eighteen months since the impressions here recorded first were offered to the public and re-reading them now after the interval I am conscious that for me the first glad joy of it is over I can never again recapture the shimmering golden glamour of it all Indeed looking back through the grey mist of England I find myself tempted with the wisdom or folly of later remembrance to revise rewrite tone down some of the pictures that now seem too polychromatic in the retrospect But I have refrained feeling that thereby any value they may possess as truth would be mirror dimmed by the breathings of the later mood their individuality would thus be lost Nevertheless I have yielded to temptation to this extent so many have written asking what became of them afterwards that I have added a postscript to the original narrative telling what they thought of it all and how they liked being put into a book Nothing had pleased me more than the numerous letters I have received from doctors young men writing eagerly to know if I could find them such a ship in which they might have such experiences older men enquiring furtively apologetically if their grey hairs could possibly be overlooked so that they too might find themselves amid similar surroundings About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works

Seymour Smith, 1953-01-02 Originally published in 1953 What Shall I Read Next lists nearly 2000 works published after 1900 with the compiler's own appreciatory comments on selected items It was a companion volume to Mr Seymour Smith's English Library Both books are published on behalf of the National Book League In his introduction explaining the scope and purpose of the book Mr Seymour Smith wrote Some will find it useful merely as a shopping list reminding them of books they know something about already and serving as a remembrancer To others and particularly to younger readers it may introduce books which have so far escaped their notice It is hoped too that for booksellers and librarians it will have a practical use as a desk book for answering enquiries for serving as a check list for stock and for use as a reference book when memory fails The Publishers Weekly, 1898 The English Catalogue of Books Sampson Low, 1952 Volumes for 1898 1968 include a directory of publishers Cumulated Index to the Books, 1953 A world list of
