Take Back Conservation:

Take Back Conservation Dave Foreman, 2012 Renowned environmentalist Foreman warns that the network of wilderness and wildlife conservationists is being undermined and weakened by environmental resource nationalists Those who say conservation is about people not wild things

Road to Ruin Dom Nozzi, 2003-09-30 What causes sprawl and are there sensible solutions to its aggravating problems Nozzi delivers an easy to follow introduction to sprawl's causes and offers common sense solutions available to communities The time is ripe for resurrecting the tradition of designing that makes people not cars happy Since the end of World War II America has been obsessed with a desire to improve conditions for cars not people primarily through enormous subsidies for road widening and construction of free parking Not only does this obsession worsen conditions for motorists at great public expense it traps communities in a vicious cycle that delivers a declining sprawling financially bankrupting future regardless of the quality of regulations plans planners or elected officials Nozzi delivers an easy to follow introduction to sprawl's causes and offers common sense solutions available to communities The time is ripe for resurrecting the tradition of designing that makes people not cars happy The key is returning to modest human scaled streets parking land use and development regulations Design principles encouraging walking bicycling and mass transit in conjunction with automobile travel are essential to creating livable cities once again A professional city planner for over 15 years Nozzi has firsthand knowledge of what works what doesn't and what real world obstacles are faced when dealing with sprawl Aimed at people who want an insider's introduction to our road traffic and land use problems this book is a useful guide to both professional planners and citizens concerned about the future of their own communities

Developments in Soil Classification, Land Use Planning and Policy Implications Shabbir A. Shahid, Faisal K. Taha, Mahmoud A. Abdelfattah, 2013-02-15 As the world's population continues to expand maintaining and indeed increasing agricultural productivity is more important than ever though it is also more difficult than ever in the face of changing weather patterns that in some cases are leading to aridity and desertification The absence of scientific soil inventories especially in arid areas leads to mistaken decisions about soil use that in the end reduce a region's capacity to feed its population or to guarantee a clean water supply Greater efficiency in soil use is possible when these resources are properly classified using international standards Focusing on arid regions this volume details soil classification from many countries It is only once this information is properly assimilated by policymakers it becomes a foundation for informed decisions in land use planning for rational and sustainable uses

Maryland Conservationist, 1925 Why Conservation Is Failing and How It Can Regain Ground Eric T. Freyfogle, 2008-10-01 Critics of environmental laws complain that such rules often burden people unequally restrict individual liberty and undercut private property rights In formulating responses to these criticisms the conservation effort has stumbled badly says Eric T. Freyfogle in this thought provoking book Conservationists and environmentalists haven't done their intellectual homework he contends and they have failed to offer an understandable compelling vision of healthy lands and healthy human communities Freyfogle explores why the conservation movement has responded ineffectually to the many cultural and economic criticisms leveled against it He addresses the meaning of good land use describes the many shortcomings of sustainability and outlines six key tasks that the cause must address Among these is the crafting of an overall goal and a vision of responsible private ownership The book concludes with a stirring message that situates conservation within America's story of itself and with an extensive annotated bibliography of conservation's most valuable voices and texts important information for readers prepared to take conservation more seriously
