sociological approaches to this matter Timothy V Kaufman Osborn asks several questions Why do executions no longer take the form of public spectacles Why are certain methods of execution considered barbaric Why must the liberal state strictly segregate the imposition of a death sentence whether by judge or jury from its actual infliction whether by a state official or an ordinary citizen Why are women so infrequently sentenced to death and executed How does the state seek to hide the suffering inflicted by capital punishment through its endorsement of a bio medical conception of pain How does the nearly universal shift to lethal injection pose problems for the late liberal state by confusing its punitive and welfare responsibilities Drawing on a wide range of theoretical sources including John Locke Max Weber Nicos Poulantzas Friedrich Nietzsche J L Austin Michel Foucault Judith Butler Pierre Bourdieu Elaine Scarry and others Kaufman Osborn grounds his appropriation of these authors in analyses of specific recent executions including that of Wesley Allan Dodd and Charles Campbell in Washington Karla Faye Tucker in Texas and Allen Lee Davis in Florida From Noose to Needle will be of interest to students of law political theory and sociology as well as more general readers interested in the troublesome issue of capital punishment Timothy V Kaufman Osborn is Baker Ferguson Professor of Politics and Leadership Whitman College
