Altering Eyes Mark R. Kelley, Joseph Anthony Wittreich, 2002 The essays in this volume bring under scrutiny traditional interpretations of what is widely considered Milton's last poem. As such the essays in Altering Eyes are an imitation of the writings they would illuminate which is to say that they are methodologically adventurous not merely assimilative and will do the kind of work that much Milton criticism of recent decades has resisted. Evident in all these essays is a deep alliance an interdependency between history literature and theory. Here philosophy and psychology international law economics ethics legal theory aesthetics and biblical hermeneutics the laws of genre and generic transformations republican politics comparative religion all come into play. Because of the paths they pursue and the critical methodologies they deploy these eleven essays revise not only past criticism but also one another with the title of this volume Altering Eyes in its invocation of Blake's wise injunction that the eye altering alters all serving as their intellectual and methodological paradigm
