False Starts David M. Ball, 2015 From Herman Melville's claim that failure is the true test of greatness to Henry Adams's self identification with the mortifying failure in his long education and William Faulkner's eagerness to be judged by his splendid failure to do the impossible the rhetoric of failure has served as a master trope of modernist American literary expression David Ball's magisterial study addresses the fundamental questions of language meaning and authority that run counter to well rehearsed claims of American innocence and positivity beginning with the American Renaissance and extending into modernist and contemporary literature The rhetoric of failure was used at various times to engage artistic ambition the arrival of advanced capitalism and a rapidly changing culture not to mention sheer exhaustion False Starts locates a lively narrative running through American literature that consequently queries assumptions about the development of modernism in the United States
