The Theology of Suffering and Death Natalie Kertes Weaver, 2013 This book offers a theological foundation for engaging with the realities of suffering and dying. Designed particularly for practical theology students and trainee caregivers, it introduces the spiritual and theological issues raised by suffering and dying. The chapters consider how Christian theology deals with the problem of suffering and how the Bible treats these difficult issues post biblical interpretations of Jesus' suffering and the Cross. Modern instances including ecology, poverty, discrimination, and war, comparative religious approaches, and the depiction in popular culture. Natalie Weaver relates theology to practical issues of caregiving and provides a toolbox for thinking about suffering and death in a creative and supportive way. Trust in Atonement Teresa Morgan, 2024-10-29 A fresh exploration of atonement rooted in the theology of trust. Atonement, the restoration of right relationship with God which God has made possible for humanity through Christ, is the good news of Christianity. How ought Christians think about the epicenter of salvation history? Teresa Morgan takes up this longstanding question and in a significant departure from both classical and modern theologians, proposes new answers that are rooted in the concept of trust, pistis. Weaving together exegesis and theology, sociology and psychology, Morgan defines atonement as the restoration of trust between God and humanity through the trust and trustworthiness of Jesus Christ. Her model has important implications for Christians' understanding of sin, suffering, and the possibility of forgiveness and restoration of trust among human beings.

The Deritualization of Death Charles Lynn Gibson, 2019-10-15 The problematic field of investigation for this study was for the care of bereaved human beings in the context of significant cultural shifts now shaping the twenty-first century. Deritualization was identified as a significant interdisciplinary concern that contributes to potential distress in processes of grieving. The objective of the research was the development of a practical theology of compassionate caregiving for the bereaved, with deference to the problem of deritualization. The theoretical framework was guided by the Oxford Interdisciplinary Research model and the Loyola Institute of Ministries model of practical theology. The study was designed for applied research for funeral directors and vocational pastors, utilizing qualitative research methods. Hermeneutical and empirical components addressed six research questions through two domains of inquiry: disciplinary perspectives and educational dynamics of bereavement caregiving. Using the method of hermeneutics to critically evaluate the first two research questions, three disciplinary fields of knowledge were examined and integrated from the perspective of pastoral care, funeral service, bereavement psychology, and practical theology. Each discipline individually converged upon meaningful caregiving, meaning reconstruction, and meaning reframing as significant modes of bereavement care. Using ethnographic semi-structured interviews to critically evaluate the remaining four research questions, data were collected from a Christian university and a mortuary college. The interview questionnaire included twenty-five main questions organized in four parts: Philosophy of Education, Hermeneutics of Bereaved Families, Care of Bereaved Families, and Encounter of Bereaved Families.

The study utilized two cycles of qualitative coding techniques to report the findings of each participating school A hybrid form of in vivo and holistic coding as well as a second cycle of pattern coding distilled the interview responses into actionable statements that reinforced bereavement caregiving By synthesizing all of the findings a compelling case was made for a paradigm of comforting presence supported by principles from a Louwian perspective of practical theology including theological anthropology promissiotherapy bipolarity and hermeneutics The study connected a philosophy of meaning reframing and a paradigm of comforting presence to a meta theoretical framework within a narrative approach to care The research elucidated an interdisciplinary understanding that contributed toward a compassionate practical theology of caregiving for the bereaved

To Die Is Gain: A Theological (Re-)Introduction to the Sacrament of Anointing of the Sick for Clergy, Laity, Caregivers, and Everyone Else Roger W. Nutt,2022-05-05

The Anointing of the Sick is possibly the most underappreciated and understudied sacrament In To Die Is Gain Roger Nutt seeks to bring greater attention to and appreciation for the Anointing of the Sick Beginning with an examination of cultural perceptions of dying death and burial To Die Is Gain exposes the ways in which contemporary atheism and physicalism mark a clear divergence from ancient attitudes In contrast to contemporary hopelessness the Anointing of the Sick is a powerful counter witness that highlights the great dignity of the human person and the depth of Christian hope Unlike the cures to particular ailments facilitated by modern medical science in Holy Anointing Jesus gives his dying followers the healing graces that they need to pass from this life to the next in loving union with Him As Nutt exposes the biblical and traditional foundations of this sacrament he corrects common misconceptions and malpractice of this sacrament especially the ways in which Vatican II is often misleadingly enlisted to support a broadening of the sacrament from end of life situations to non life threatening illnesses Finally Nutt carefully describes the graces and effects of the Anointing of the Sick and richly expounds the theological depth of the rite of the Anointing of the Sick The result is that readers can confidently say with St Paul that To die is gain Philippians 1 21

The End of Hope--the Beginning Pamela R. McCarroll,2014 Pamela R McCarroll s central metaphor waiting at the foot of the cross jumps off the page and comes to life that is exactly what chaplains supervisors and ministers do when they engage in care with sufferers Her theological case studies represent one of the best examples in print of an inductive method the one that chaplains supervisors students and parish ministers actually use in practice While we have many good books which demonstrate the theory of pastoral care and use examples and vignettes in an illustrative manner we have few that so directly demonstrate pastoral theological method while teaching students method and content of theology that will serve them in their pastoral care oriented work Jacket

Julie Margaret Biroscak,2008   Theology, Death and Dying Ray S. Anderson,2012-04-14 How do we make sense of death in theology in philosophy in experience How do religions other than Christianity deal with death and with dying In the now predominantly secular societies of the West what are we to make of the theologies of death developed by writers such as Becker Hick Thielicke and Macquarrie Ray Anderson tackles his subject with clarity and without sentimentality He discusses first the treatment and indeed the denial of death by contemporary Western society and its place in other religious traditions Going on to discuss the origins of a Christian theology of death he examines the legacy of Judaism and seeks to lay the foundations for a Christian anthropology in the unity of the body and soul Death he argues is alien to God s determination of our personhood Outlining a classic Christian understanding of the death and resurrection of Jesus Christ he explores the implications of the Passion for our own mortality Even if the sting of death has been removed the experience of dying and bereavement remains Ray Anderson considers pastoral approaches to dying in the light of his observations and arguments and makes his case for a reintegration of the experience of dying into our communities
