Cunningham, Marty Billingsley, 2006 0205459404 Cunningham Curriculum Webs 2 2e Curriculum Webs helps in service teachers curriculum developers and pre service teachers build and use the World Wide Web as a central resource to facilitate learning A curriculum web is a Web page or web site designed to support a unit of curriculum This text describes the process of building curriculum webs from the early planning stages through design of the Web pages using the finished product in classrooms reflecting on the results and revising for further use Readers will see how successful Web based curricula can be developed based on the stages of curriculum development and the needs of learners On the Companion Web site curriculumwebs.com Hands On Lessons for various web editing software show specific procedures for implementing the ideas contained in the book The companion web site also includes numerous links to resources and further examples The ASTD E-learning Handbook Allison Rossett, 2002 The entire training industry is undergoing dramatic change as training is moved out of traditional classrooms and onto the Web Training publications and conferences are now dominated by speakers writers and vendors talking about e Learning The e Learning revolution is forcing companies to spend millions on new technology and new web based courseware threatening the role of traditional classroom trainers and saving companies millions of dollars in housing and travel costs because trainees no longer need a plane ticket and 3 nights accommodation to attend a corporate training program the training can be delivered to each learner's desktop over the Web. But because e Learning is still in the revolution stage there are no clear standards and models for how to create and deliver e Learning successfully. Everyone is asking the same questions: how does web based training fit in with traditional classroom based training? What are the standards for designing high quality e Learning? How much interaction with an instructor do e Learning participants need? What is the role of the instructional designer in online learning? The ASTD e Learning Yearbook will be the first annual reference.

Making the Most of the Web in Your Classroom

Timothy D. Green, Abbie Brown, LeAnne Robinson, 2008. I have not seen a more teacher friendly resource for using the Web in the classroom. The authors took both novices and experts into consideration. A must have in every school. Elizabeth Alvarez, Math and Science Coach, Chicago Public Schools, IL. A user friendly tool on many levels. I would recommend this book to media specialists, instructional technology teachers and district coordinators for both content and technology. April DeGennaro, Gifted Education Teacher, Peeples Elementary School, Fayetteville, GA. Translate Web technology into practical applications for the daily curriculum. Designed for novices and experienced users, this comprehensive guide includes all the need to know aspects of using the World Wide Web to support student learning. Making the Most of the Web in Your Classroom covers the language of the Web, describes Web editing software and shows how to use Web tools that offer unique learning opportunities for students. This book examines issues of student safety, appropriate netiquette and copyright and other legal considerations and provides field tested strategies, examples and reproducibles to help teachers create powerful learning opportunities. Educators will be able to meet ISTE NETS technology and content standards as they design and build Web sites. Help students develop their own Internet projects. Evaluate and manage Web projects. Featuring a list of key terms in each chapter, this timely resource will motivate your students and help make technology a seamless part of your classroom instruction.

Using the Internet for Active Teaching and Learning Steven C. Mills, 2006. For courses in Computers in Education. Are you ready to make use of the power of the Internet to support your teaching? Using the Internet for Active Teaching and Learning combines both theory and practice to introduce you to the Internet's potential as a teaching tool in your classroom. With student learning as its goal, the book is organized by its functions in the classroom: from communication to locating and evaluating information, publishing information, problem solving, cooperative problem solving, inquiry and discovery and online collaborations.
