Irish Digital Cultures Deirdre Flynn, Mary McGill, 2025-12-10 Irish Digital Cultures explores how questions of Ireland and Irishness are represented in online environments and what these phenomena say about contemporary Irish identities both within the country and globally. Bringing together interdisciplinary scholars and media studies professionals from across Ireland this collection investigates how Irish life, culture, and identity are impacted and evolving with the increasing reliance on digital platforms and tools. Emerging and established scholars at the cutting edge of Irish cultural research offer chapters that speak to the diversity of the digital in the Irish cultural sphere. The Culture and Identity section explores issues of representation digital reimaginings of Irishness, the discursive interplay of old Ireland versus new Ireland online, and Irishness as a self-brand and marketable commodity in the digital commons. From Irish gamers on YouTube to popular Irish podcast production this section examines interconnections of culture and identity exploring how these are reimagined and articulated in digital spaces. Building on these themes the Contexts and Spaces section introduces scholarship on Irish cultural memory and the digital archive, protest and visibility in Irish digital spaces, artistic practice and performance, and the policing of Irishness online. This volume will interest Irish Studies researchers and scholars particularly those working at the intersection of Media Studies, Cultural Studies, Sociology, Race, Gender, Identity, and New Media as well as students studying Irish culture across the humanities and social sciences.
