The Industrial Transformation of Subarctic Canada Liza Piper,2010-01-01 Between 1821 and 1960 industrial economies took root in the North transgressing political geographies and superseding the historically dominant fur trade Imported southern scientists and sojourning labourers worked the Northwest and its industrial history bears these newcomers imprint This book reveals the history of human impact upon the North It provides a baseline grounded in historical and scientific evidence for measuring subarctic environmental change Liza Piper examines the sustainability of industrial economies the value of resource exploitation in volatile ecosystems and the human consequences of northern environmental change She also addresses northern communities historical resistance to external resource development and their fight for survival in the face of intensifying environmental and economic pressures

Student-Centered Pedagogy and Course Transformation at Scale Chantal Levesque-Bristol,2023-07-03 In response to national concerns a decade ago driven by research that showed that higher education was making little impact on students development of broad competencies and critical thinking the provost and president of Purdue University a research university instituted a program whose goals were to build on the accumulated knowledge on effective teaching to facilitate student learning improve outcomes and change the institutional culture around teaching and learning objectives to which many institutions aspire but which few consistently attain or attain at scale This book describes the development of Purdue s IMPACT program Instruction Matters Purdue Academic Course Transformation from its tentative beginning when it struggled to recruit 35 faculty fellows to the present when 350 have been enrolled and the university has more applications than it can currently handle Overall more than 600 courses have been impacted many of which have seen significantly reduced DFW rates Chantal Levesque Bristol whose Center for Instructional Excellence is part of an institutional team that comprises the Provost s Office Teaching and Learning Technologies Unit Institutional Assessment the Purdue University Library and School of Information Studies and the Evaluation and Learning Research Center describes the evolution of IMPACT lessons learned and the central tenets that have led to its success The purpose of this book is notonly to describe the program but also to highlight the importance and implications of the underlying motivational theoretical framework guiding the initiative Having started as a course redesign program that faltered in achieving its objectives the breakthrough came with the introduction of the fundamental motivational principles of self determination theory SDT followed by the applications of these principles to the research in higher education leadership and pedagogy Giving faculty fellows the autonomy to build on their disciplinary expertise pursue their interests and predilections within a guided framework and leveraging interactions with colleagues through FLCs stimulated faculty fellows motivation and creativity This book describes the core and structure of the IMPACT program presents details of faculty learning curriculum explains how the focus on SDT principles shaped the program s evolution and transformation from a course redesign to a professional faculty development program and covers the considerations behind the formation of faculty fellow IMPACT teams A concluding chapter addresses how the IMPACT program having helped faculty pivot to emergency remote teaching when the campus closed owing to the COVID 19 pandemic is being modified so it can be successfully sustained online if circumstances require or as a means to expand its reach in the future While the principles behind this initiative will be of compelling interest to its primary audience of faculty developers several chapters will have appeal to instructors and administrators

Inviting Transformation Sonja K. Foss,Karen A. Foss,2011-05-24 The third edition of Inviting Transformation continues to offer a refreshing innovative approach to public speaking or what the authors call presentational speaking to acknowledge that not all important speaking occurs in formal public settings The book introduces readers to invitational rhetoric a mode of communicating that offers an effective response to the diversity that characterizes the world In an invitational approach speakers communicate not to win or to prove superiority but to clarify ideas and to achieve understanding for all participants in an interaction Respect for the diversity of the world also is emphasized in the book in that the traditional speaking model has been expanded to include speaking options that characterize diverse cultural groups For all of the processes of presentingsuch as selecting a speaking goal organizing ideas elaborating on ideas and delivering the presentation the book includes and validates more inclusive speaking practices Sample presentations reflect concepts presented in the text providing clear and contemporary examples of the best invitational speaking practices The exceptionally accessible writing style and reasonable price make this concise text attractive for students and instructors alike

Transforming Leadership Pathways for Humanities Professionals in Higher Education Roze Hentschell,Catherine E. Thomas,2023-04-15 Transforming Leadership Pathways for Humanities Professionals in Higher Education includes thirteen essays from a variety of contributors investigating how humanities professionals grapple with the opportunities and challenges of leadership positions Written by insiders sharing their lived experience this collection provides an authentic look at the multiple roles humanities specialists play as well as offers strategies for professional growth sustenance and satisfaction The collection also considers the relationship between disciplinary areas of study academic training and the valuable skill sets and habits of mind that serve higher education leaders While Transforming Leadership Pathways emphasizes that a leadership route in higher education can be a welcome and positive professional move for many humanities scholars the volume also acknowledges the issues that arise when faculty take on administrative positions while otherwise marginalized on campus because of faculty status rank or personal identity This collection demystifies the path into higher education administration and argues that humanities scholars are uniquely qualified for such roles Empathetic deeply analytical attuned to historical context and trained in communication teachers and scholars who hail from humanities disciplines often find themselves well suited to the demands of complex academic leadership in today's colleges and universities

Transforming the Ivory Tower Brett C. Stockdill, Mary Yu Danico, 2012-03-15 People outside and within colleges and universities often view these institutions as fair and reasonable far removed from the inequalities that afflict society in general Despite greater numbers of women working class people and people of color as well as increased visibility for LGBTQ students and staff over the past fifty years universities remain ivory towers that perpetuate institutionalized forms of sexism classism racism and homophobia Transforming the Ivory Tower builds on the rich legacy of historical struggles to open universities to dissenting voices and oppressed groups Each chapter is guided by a commitment to praxis the idea that theoretical understandings of inequality must be applied to concrete strategies for change The common misconception that racism sexism and homophobia no longer plague university life heightens the difficulty to dismantle the interlocking forms of oppression that undergird the ivory tower Contributors demonstrate that women LGBTQ people and people of color continue to face systemic forms of bias and discrimination on campuses throughout the U S Curriculum and pedagogy evaluation of scholarship and the processes of tenure and promotion are all laden with inequities both blatant and covert The contributors to this volume defy the pressure to assimilate by critically examining personal and collective struggles Speaking from different social spaces and backgrounds they analyze antiracist feminist and queer approaches to teaching and mentoring research and writing academic culture and practices growth and development of disciplines campus activism university community partnerships and confronting privilege Transforming the Ivory Tower will be required reading for all students faculty and administrators seeking to understand bias and discrimination in higher education and to engage in social justice work on and off college campuses It offers a proactive approach encompassing institutional and cultural changes that foster respect inclusion and transformation Contributors Michael Armato Rick Bonus Jose Guillermo Zapata Calderon Mary Yu Danico Christina Gomez David Naguib Pellow Brett C Stockdill Linda Trinh V
