

MULTIFUNCTION MANIFOLD

The multifunction manifold controls the winch freespool, rear differential lock, front differential lock, parking brake and variable pitch fan (if equipped) functions.

This manifold contains a non-adjustable pressure reducing valve and pressure relief valve to provide pilot oil for use by the solenoid operated pilot valves in the manifold when a function is activated.

There are five sections labelled A, B, C, D and E. The valves in each section are different and specific to the function for which they are used.

Section A is controlled by a solenoid operated pilot valve and contains a secondary pressure reducing valve which further reduces the pressure of the pilot oil supplied for the winch freespool function when activated.

Sections B, C and D are controlled by solenoid operated pilot valves and provide pilot oil to the rear differential lock, front differential lock and parking brake release functions (if equipped) respectively when a function is activated. Note that some machines are equipped with a parking brake lever, on these machines section D is not used.

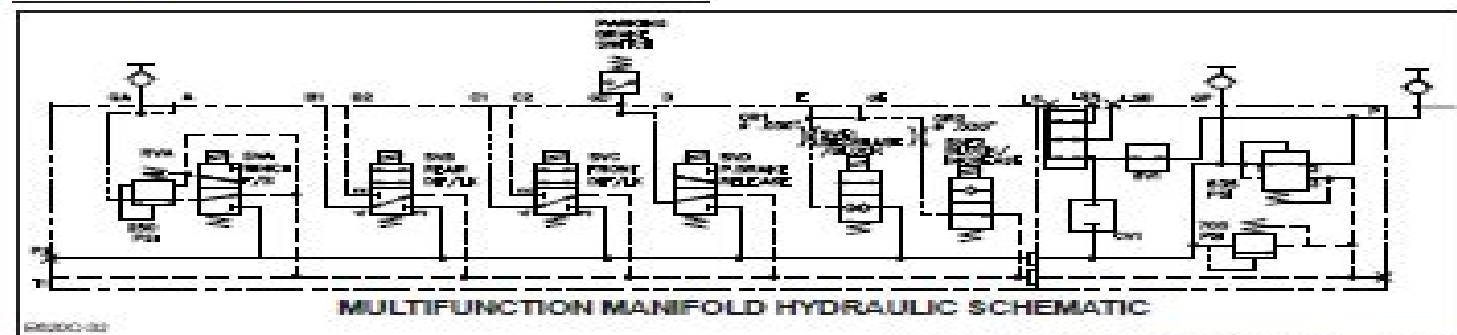

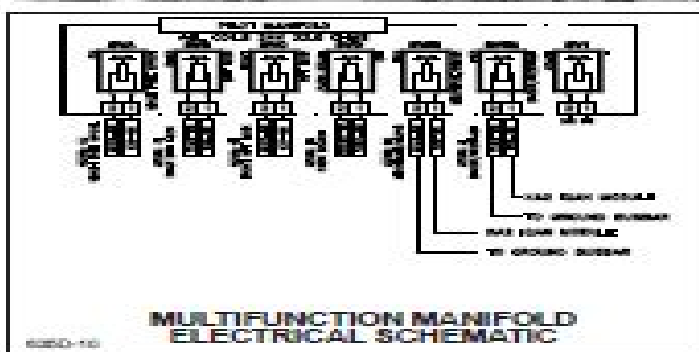

Section E is controlled by two solenoid operated pilot valves operating together to provide pilot oil to the variable pitch fan functions (FULL ON, AUTO, CLEAN) when a function is operated.

This manifold has two tank ports T and T1.

Coil resistance for all solenoids is 33.8 ohms.

For information about the winch freespool function refer to SECTION 13 of THIS MANUAL.

For information about the variable pitch fan function refer to SECTION 10 in THIS MANUAL.
