Writing and Righting Lyndsey Stonebridge,2020-11-26 A bold and accessible argument for the moral and political value of literature in rightless times The obvious humanity of books would seem to make literature and human rights natural allies But what is the real connection between literature and human rights In this short polemical book Lyndsey Stonebridge shows how the history of human rights owes much to the creative imagining of writers Yet she argues it is not enough to claim that literature is the empathetic wing of the human rights movement At a time when human rights are so blatantly under attack the writers we need how are the political truthtellers the bold callers out of easy sympathy and comfortable platitudes

Outside, America Hikaru Fujii,2013-04-25 The idea of the outside as a space of freedom has always been central in the literature of the United States This concept still remains active in contemporary American fiction however its function is being significantly changed Outside America argues that among contemporary American novelists a shift of focus to the temporal dimension is taking place No longer a spatial movement the quest for the outside now seeks to reach the idea of time as a force of difference a la Deleuze by which the current subjectivity is transformed In other words the concept is taking a temporal turn Discussing eight novelists including Don DeLillo Richard Powers Paul Theroux and Annie Proulx each of whose works describe forces of given identities masculine identity historical temporality and power etc which block quests for the outside Fujii shows how the outside in these texts ceases to be a spatial idea With due attention to critical and social contexts the book aims to reveal a profound shift in contemporary American fiction

The Expository Times, 1890 The Pre-text of Ethics Diane Moira Duncan, 2001 The Pre Text of Ethics is a very readable introduction to both Derrida and Levinas focusing on the latter's influence on deconstruction especially on the meaning of justice and the notion of the gift Without deconstructing the beauty of Levinas's vision Diane Moira Duncan aims to show that Levinas's views on women contradict his general project which aims to defend heteronormativity against philosophical narcissism This book represents an organic overview of the development of Levinas's thought and situates a critique of his phenomenology of the feminine face and philosophy of woman in this context It makes a significant contribution to the question of the ethics of deconstruction
