Time Magazine Novelist Between The Generations:

Günter Grass and His Critics Siegfried Mews, 2008 A comprehensive narrative overview and analysis of the criticism of the controversial German author's works. When the Swedish Academy announced that Günter Grass had been awarded the 1999 Nobel Prize for Literature, it singled out his first novel, The Tin Drum (1959, English translation 1963) as a seminal work that had signaled the postwar rebirth of German letters, auguring a new beginning after decades of linguistic and moral destruction. Nearly fifty years after its publication, the novel's significance has been generally acknowledged; it is the uncontested favorite among Grass's works of fiction on the part of reading public and critics alike. Yet its canonical status tends to obscure the decidedly mixed and even hostile reactions it initially elicited. Along with The Tin Drum, Grass's impressive body of literary work since the 1950s has spawned a cottage industry of Grass criticism, making a reliable guide through the thicket of sometimes contradictory readings a definite desideratum. Siegfried Mews fills this lacuna in Grass scholarship by way of a detailed but succinct descriptive as well as analytical and evaluative overview of the scholarship from 1959 to 2005. Grass's politically motivated interventions in public discourse have kept him highly visible, blurring the boundaries between politics and aesthetics. Mews therefore examines not only academic criticism but also the daily and weekly press and other news media, providing additional insight into the reception of Grass's works.

Siegfried Mews is Professor of German at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. Edinburgh Companion to the Millennial Novel Christopher Lloyd, Loic Bourdeau, 2025-08-31 The millennial novel is a term and genre that is at once over debated and under examined. As the first major book to survey and map out the millennial novel across multiple countries, this Companion offers a global framework for thinking about the dominant forms and preoccupations of writing by millennial authors. Scholars of contemporary literature will benefit from its breadth of investigation across issues of race, gender, sexuality, class, family, social structures, nationhood, and literary form, as well as its detailed studies of particular novels and authors, including Brit Bennett, Ocean Vuong, Ottessa Moshfegh, Sally Rooney, Raven Leilani, and Ling Ma. Overall, The Edinburgh Companion to the Millennial Novel shows that millennial fiction is neither homogeneous nor impervious to previous socio-literary movements. In turn, it complicates our understanding of the genre, attempts to define the contours of contemporary literary production, and reflects on twenty-first-century sociality.

Encyclopedia of American Jewish History Stephen H. Norwood, Eunice G. Pollack, 2007-08-28 Written by the most prominent scholars in American Jewish history, this encyclopedia illuminates the varied experiences of America's Jews and their impact on American society and culture over three and a half centuries. American Jews have profoundly shaped and been shaped by American culture. Yet American history texts have largely ignored the Jewish experience. The Encyclopedia of American Jewish History corrects that omission. In essays and short entries written by 125 of the world's leading scholars of American Jewish history and culture, this encyclopedia explores both religious and secular aspects of American Jewish life. It examines the European background and immigration of American

Jews and their impact on the professions and academic disciplines mass culture and the arts literature and theater and labor and radical movements It explores Zionism antisemitism responses to the Holocaust the branches of Judaism and Jews relations with other groups including Christians Muslims and African Americans The encyclopedia covers the Jewish press and education Jewish organizations and Jews participation in America's wars In two comprehensive volumes Encyclopedia of American Jewish History makes 350 years of American Jewish experience accessible to scholars all levels of students and the reading public

Caring in Times of Precarity Chow Yiu Fai, 2018-12-14 Caring in Times of Precarity draws together two key cultural observations the increase in those living a single life and the growing attraction of creative careers Straddling this historical juncture the book focuses on one particular group of precariat single women in Shanghai in various forms of creative self employment While negotiating their share of the uncanny creative work ethos these women also find themselves interpellated as shengn left over women in a society configured by a mix of Confucian values heterosexual ideals and global images of womanhood Following these women's professional social and intimate lives the book refuses to see their singlehood and creative labour as problematic and them as victims It departs from dominant thinking on precarity which foregrounds and critiques the contemporary need to be flexible mobile and spontaneous to the extent of self exploitation accepting insecurity The book seeks to understand empirically and specifically women's everyday struggles and pleasures It highlights the up close everyday embodied affective and subjective experience in a particular Chinese city with broader global resonances well beyond China Exploring the limits of the politics of precarity the book proposes an ethics of care
