Three Women Of Herat:

Three Women of Herat Veronica Doubleday, 1988 Three Women of Herat Veronica Doubleday, 2006-03-31 In the years before the communist coup and the Soviet invasion of Afghanistan Veronica Doubleday set up home in the ancient city of Herat with her husband who was researching Central Asian music At first her only glimpses of women were as shadows faceless and voiceless Gradually however she formed friendships with three young mothers who welcomed her into their lives taught her their customs and music and shared the details of their everyday existence She witnessed their most personal moments the births and deaths of their children their marriages and celebrations religious holidays healings and rituals After the Soviet invasion in 1979 she lost touch with her friends but returned to Herat recently adding another chapter to this poignant story Women's Writing and Muslim Societies Sharif Gemie, 2012-11-15 Women's Writing and Muslim Societies looks at the rise in works concerning Muslim societies by both western and Muslim women from pioneering female travellers like Freya Stark and Edith Wharton in the early twentieth century whose accounts of the Orient were usually playful and humorous to the present day and such works as Azar Nafisi's Reading Lolita in Tehran and Betty Mahmoody's Not Without My Daughter which present a radically different view of Muslim Societies marked by fear hostility and even disgust The author Sharif Gemie also considers a new range of female Muslim writers whose works suggest a variety of other perspectives that speak of difficult journeys the problems of integration identity crises and the changing nature of Muslim cultures in the process this volume examines varied journeys across cultural political and religious borders discussing the problems faced by female travellers the problems of trans cultural romances and the difficulties of constructing dialogue between enemy camps Reading Khaled Hosseini Rebecca Stuhr, 2009-09-03 One of the most important emerging novelists today Khaled Hosseini has enjoyed critical success and popular accolades His first book The Kite Runner was voted Reading Group Book of the Year in 2006 and 2007 and was made into a major motion picture His second book A Thousand Splendid Suns seems destined to follow the same path Written for book club members and students this guide overviews Hosseini's works themes characters and contexts and relates his fiction to current events and popular culture Sidebars present interesting information and chapters contain questions to stimulate book club discussions and student research The volume closes with a selected general bibliography of print and electronic resources The book begins with a glance at Hosseini's life and his use of the novel form It then looks at his novels summarizing their plots and discussing his characters themes and contexts The book gives close attention to his handling of current events in his works and to the presence of his fiction in popular culture Chapters include sidebars of interesting information along with discussion questions designed to promote book club discussion and student research War, Exile and the Music of Afghanistan John Baily, 2016-09-01 In the 1970s John Baily conducted extensive ethnomusicological research in Afghanistan principally in the city of Herat but also in Kabul Then with Taraki's coup in 1978 came conflict war and the dispersal of many musicians to locations far and wide

This new publication is the culmination of Baily's further research on Afghan music over the 35 years that followed. This took him to Afghanistan, Pakistan, Iran, the USA, Australia, and parts of Europe, London, Hamburg, and Dublin. Arranged chronologically, the narrative traces the sequence of political events from 1978 through the Soviet invasion to the coming of the Taliban and finally the aftermath of the US-led invasion in 2001. He examines the effects of the ever-changing situation on the lives and works of Afghan musicians, following individual musicians in fascinating detail. At the heart of his analysis are privileged vignettes of ten musical personalities, some of friends and some newly discovered. The result is a remarkable personal memoir by an eminent ethnomusicologist known for his deep commitment to Afghanistan, Afghan musicians, and Afghan musical culture. John Baily is also an ethnographic filmmaker. Four of his films relating to his research are included on the downloadable resources that accompany the text.

Musics Lost and Found Michael Church, 2021. This is the first ever book about song collectors' music's unsung heroes. They include the Armenian priest who sacrificed his life to preserve the folk music which the Turks were trying to erase in the 1915 Genocide; the prisoner in a Nazi concentration camp who secretly noted down the songs of doomed Jewish inmates; the British singer who went veiled into Afghanistan to learn, record, and perform the music the Taliban wanted to silence. With globalisation, urbanisation, and Westernisation causing an irreversible erosion of the world's musical diversity, Michael Church suggests we may be seeing folk music's end of history. Old forms are dying as the conditions for their survival or replacement disappear; the death of villages means the death of village musical culture. This ground-breaking book is the sequel to the author's award-winning The Other Classical Musics and it concludes with an inventory of the musics now under threat or already lost for ever.

Afghanistan Dispossessed Razia Sultanova, 2023-01-24. A focused history of women and popular culture in Afghanistan from the Soviet invasion to 9/11 to the Taliban's takeover. How does normal social, cultural, religious life survive in constant turmoil? How can the people flourish? These basic questions are examined and answered by Razia Sultanova's academic analysis and deep fieldwork with extensive eyewitness and personal contacts and conversations with a wide variety of Afghan men and women. She looks at basic questions of gender, identity, nation, tradition, history, popular culture, and especially the role of music, classical, popular, modern, and contemporary, as a vital element for survival. And all is over-shadowed by the Taliban with its on-going threat of terror and repression, especially for women and girls. Here is a classical story of a people's struggle for everyday normality and preservation of cherished traditions in a war-torn society.

Women and Missions, 1924. Women Singers in Global Contexts Ruth Hellier, 2013-02-05. Exploring and celebrating individual lives in diverse situations. Women Singers in Global Contexts is a new departure in the study of women's worldwide music making. Ten unique women constitute the heart of this volume; each one has engaged her singing voice as a central element in her life, experiencing various opportunities, tensions, and choices through her vocality. These biographical and poetic narratives demonstrate how the act of vocalizing embodies dynamics of representation, power, agency, activism, and risk-taking. Engaging with performance practice, politics, and constructions of gender through vocality and vocal aesthetics this collection offers valuable insights into the experiences of specific women singers in a range of sociocultural contexts Contributors trace themes and threads that include childhood families motherhood migration fame training transmission technology and the interface of private lives and public identities

Women and Education in Iran and Afghanistan Mitra K. Shavarini, Wendy R. Robison, 2005-01-17 Women and Education in Iran and Afghanistan originated as part of the Mo alem Project sponsored by the Harvard Center on Gender and Education Recent U S investment in the area of girls and women s education in predominately Muslim countries has increased the activities of a myriad of NGOs and other organizations focused on improving female education in these countries This annotated guide includes listings for fiction and nonfiction books academic articles government publications journals and select theses newspaper and magazine publications written from approximately 1975 to the present Because literature in this field is limited the authors have included a broad range of pieces including those that may not meet rigorous academic screening Each listing is accompanied by a brief descriptive abstract In addition two timelines are included to track the women s movement as well as policy development and events that have occurred in the political economic and education sectors of each country from the early 1900s to the early 2000s The work also includes an introduction providing the context and need for this information and a foreword by Golnar Mehran renowned Iranian scholar and education practitioner This reference source is not only valuable to researchers specifically interested in gender and education issues in Iran and Afghanistan but also to scholars who are interested in these issues in Muslim countries in general Those who consult this annotated bibliography will be able to understand the broader sociopolitical and economic climate of the country for any given piece

Afghan Immigrants in the USA and Germany Maliha Zulfacar,1998 After the breakdown of all hopes in a peaceful settlement between the Afghan war parties many of the refugees who had just returned to their country saw themselves forced to emigrate again But while the first waves of emigrants during the Soviet occupation had been welcomed and had obtained in West Germany political asylum the attitudes in many countries changed drastically to indifference and even to expulsion This indifference in face of the largest national exodus after World War II must be classified as a scandal Author Maliha Zulfacar has engaged her studies to elucidate the social and cultural dimensions of this large diaspora in applying Bourdieu s categories of social and cultural capital as well as that of habitus to the different ways of adaptation to social and cultural conditions in two important countries the US and West Germany In spite of difficult economic conditions Afghans in the US can maintain their kinship links and use them to reinforce their traditional habitus and to improve their material conditions by patterns of solidarity In Germany on the other hand the administrative rigidity which limits economic activities and regional mobility in spite of relatively high public financial inputs the results are negative The social condition of the Afghans is marked by dependence and exclusion Dr Zulfacar s study suggests urgent modifications of the German policy towards refugees in general Notwithstanding the high theory level of her sociological analysis its pragmatic aspect is considerable The empirical results of Zulfacar s investigation reveal the high achievement motivation of the refugees who in their overwhelming majority emigrated just to save their lives This study constitutes a moving appeal to the humanitarian responsibility of the decision makers in industrial societies Women and Development in the Middle East and North Africa Joseph G. Jabbra, Nancy Walstrom Jabbra, 1992 Broadly speaking women and development can be viewed as the empowerment of women in a Third World context Accordingly the question arises whether women in the Middle East and North Africa benefit from development and if so in what way The essays in this volume survey a number of countries in the region to address these questions The countries covered include Afghanistan Palestine Israel Iran Algeria Iraq Saudi Arabia Morocco and Egypt There is also a general essay on women and development The authors themselves are an international group of social scientists specializing in the region Encyclopedia of Women & Islamic Cultures Suad Joseph, Afsaneh Najmabadi, 2003 Focuses on women and the civilizations and societies in which Islam has played a historic role Surveys all facets of life society economy politics religion the arts popular culture sports health science medicine environment and so forth of women in these societies New Books on Women and Feminism , 2007

Adopting the Tune of Expression: An Emotional Symphony within Three Women Of Herat

In a world used by monitors and the ceaseless chatter of instant interaction, the melodic beauty and mental symphony produced by the published term frequently disappear in to the back ground, eclipsed by the constant sound and interruptions that permeate our lives. Nevertheless, nestled within the pages of Three Women Of Herat a stunning fictional value brimming with fresh thoughts, lies an immersive symphony waiting to be embraced. Crafted by a wonderful composer of language, this charming masterpiece conducts readers on a psychological trip, well unraveling the concealed tunes and profound affect resonating within each cautiously crafted phrase. Within the depths with this emotional review, we shall discover the book is central harmonies, analyze their enthralling publishing type, and submit ourselves to the profound resonance that echoes in the depths of readers souls.
