Science-based conservation of tigers: Assessing the past to prepare for the future Carlos Ruiz-Miranda, Fernanda Michalski, Vanessa Hull, Miha Krofel, Luke Hunter, Zuofu Xiang, 2024-06-13 In this Research Topic we plan to assess the interface of conservation and science looking at the various aspects of tiger conservation by assessing what advances have been made in each relevant field where are the limitations and what does the data show us about successes and failures in conserving tigers their prey and their habitat Through a series of multiple authored papers we plan to explore the realms of tiger and prey monitoring law enforcement habitat restoration efforts human-tiger conflicts landscape connectivity and ultimately how tiger conservation strategies have evolved and emerged leading up to the present Coming at this critical time with 2022 being the Year of the Tiger and the end of a 12 year pledge by Tiger Range Countries to double tiger numbers this Research Topic will provide a landmark publication reflecting back on the past 12 and more years of tiger conservation and research and laying the foundation for the coming twelve years While the focus is on tigers the studies will have wide application to efforts to conserve other large bodied carnivores In 2010 the lunar year of the tiger a Tiger Summit was held in the Russian city of St Petersburg where 13 Tiger Range Countries pledged to double tiger numbers by the next lunar year of the tiger in 2022 The science of tiger conservation has developed in multiple ways over the past twelve years As we approach this benchmark when tiger range countries will be reporting on their past efforts and planning for the next twelve years it is important to assess what has been accomplished and what yet needs to be done where there have been successes and what has not worked This is why it is particularly important to employ a science based approach to conservation something that is not universally adopted by tiger conservation advocates but which we as editors of this collection consider central to successful tiger conservation This Research Topic will lay the foundation for effective science based conservation of tigers for the next twelve years In 2021 a collection of representatives from the international tiger conservation community developed a joint NGO vision of priorities in tiger conservation for the coming twelve years In this Research Topic we plan to focus on the critical issues for global tiger conservation as identified by this international group. This topic will discuss these issues and highlight how they have been addressed in diverse tiger landscapes including both successes and failures. Our goal is to provide a foundation and structure for site based tiger conservation actions within and beyond the next 12 year lunar cycle. This Research Topic was conceptualized and launched by Dale Miquelle, Thomas Gray, Luke Hunter, Abishek Harihar, John Goodrich and Matthew Linkie in collaboration with Frontiers to focus on The Convergence of Site based tiger conservation strategies. Opportunities for restoration of tigers across their historical range. Recovery of tigers in Thailand's tiger conservation landscapes. What works? An integrated law enforcement approach for protecting tigers and their prey in Sumatra. Cost of ranger protection for tiger protected area. Evaluating a site based enforcement strategy. Malaysia Beyond density better indicators for tiger monitoring. Prey Recovery is the foundation of tiger restoration. Resolving human-tiger conflicts. Community based tiger conservation. Can it work? Ensuring connectivity of tiger conservation landscapes. Emerging infectious disease threats. Tiger conservation and global regional initiatives. The Art of Environmental Law Benjamin J. Richardson, 2019-12-12. Environmental law has aesthetic dimensions. Aesthetic values have shaped the making of environmental law and in turn such law governs many of our nature based sensory experiences. Aesthetics is also integral to understanding the very fabric of environmental law in its institutions, procedures and discourses. The Art of Environmental Law the first book of its kind brings new insights into the importance of aesthetic issues in a variety of domains of environmental governance around the world from climate change to biodiversity conservation. It also argues for aesthetics and relatedly the arts to be taken more seriously in the practice of environmental law so as to improve our emotional and ethical capacities to address the upheavals of the Anthropocene.

, Remote Sensing and GIScience Pavan Kumar, Haroon Sajjad, Bhagwan Singh Chaudhary, J. S. Rawat, Meenu Rani, 2020-09-28. This book covers several themes related to forestry, agriculture, water, soil, urban and atmospheric research. GIScience technology systems have increased in significance in recent decades and have the ability to acquire information at ground level with a higher spectral resolution using a field radio spectrometer which is a great improvement compared to other remote sensing systems. GIScience technology systems are widely used for solving and understanding the concept of forestry, crop, water resources and related research themes. This book aims to advance the scientific understanding of GIScience technology and applications. The chapters present GIScience data integration with other sources such as LiDAR, Multi-spectral data and their applications in forestry, crop assessment, soil assessment, mineral mapping and related themes. The book will be of interest to geospatial experts, modellers, foresters, agricultural scientists, hyperspectral remote sensing and space community ecologists and conservation communities, environmental consultants, big data compilers and computing experts. Organized Crime Klaus von Lampe, 2015-07-16.
