Border Urbanism Quazi Mahtab Zaman,Greg G. Hall,2023-03-06 Border Urbanism presents a global array of authors research that tackles the perception interpretation and nature of borders from a transdisciplinary perspective The authors examine ways in which borders attempt to define socially economically politically and historically incompatible systems from micro neighbourhoods to global macro territories and how this blurs urban order that results in an absence of cohesion Their analysis of contextual worldwide settings considers the unique issues and the broad scope of forces that shape borders and separate socioeconomic political cultural and historical polarities The authors consider ways in which the resulting urban border conditions determine the mobility of goods resources and people and how these delineations define relationships that influence geopolitical relationships socioeconomic transactions and people s lives at multiple levels They address the temporal issues defined by a variety of unique urban conditions that result from these lateral thresholds Each chapter contributes to a critical discourse of the subject of border urbanism and the phenomenon created by separation demarcation and segregation as well as by conflict and coexistence The transdisciplinary approach of Border Urbanism ensures that it will be of interest to individuals across a spectrum of professions and disciplines Professionals such as urban planners designers architects developers and civil and environmental engineers and students of these disciplines will be particularly interested as will allied professionals and those not traditionally associated with urbanism these include artists sociologists historians lawyers politicians and civic and government leaders The authors global perspectives combined with their expertise in environmental historical cultural social political and geographic areas will appeal to anyone interested in border urbanism and its intersection with these areas

The Prairies Lost and Found Leonard B. Kuffert, 2007 We lose and find all the time We can forget apprehend or comprehend our surroundings several times each day Both losing and finding forgetting and rediscovering the natural and human traces on the prairies might seem like an impossibility Have we not recorded our impressions and images of prairie life faithfully Are we not standing on the shoulders of prairie giants One kind of prairie grain elevators have been disappearing from the North American prairies for about a generation and yet they have become I would argue even more vividly than in the days before they started to disappear an iconic symbol of a place which is less and less like its imagined past Our memories both individual and collective adjust to such absences by canonizing vanishing saints before it really is too late We lose the thing and find we like to think its essence We remember artistic renderings of prairie people landscapes and stories reading Margaret Laurence's novels or W L Morton's history but we cannot reproduce the pictures and words at will We know the contours of their labours just the same We forget or at least under advertise the fact that the Prairie however it might be divided by provincial or international borders is also an urban place We think less often of the fact that we have a transnational prairies in which an awareness of divergent national pasts and presents is necessary To acknowledge these complexities is to know to reclaim and indeed to find the prairies BOOK JACKET The Shell Book of Exploring Britain Garry Hogg,1993 Cycling Past Pluto Robert Bluck,2025-01-28 An epic journey round the entire coastline of mainland Britain Senior cyclists Robert and Steve ride for a fortnight at a time on minor roads and traffic free cycle tracks covering 5
