Balance, 1973-1974 International Institute for Strategic Studies, 1973 The Evolving Military Balance in the Korean Peninsula and Northeast Asia Anthony H. Cordesman, Ashley Hess, 2013-07-10 The Evolving Military Balance in the Korean Peninsula and Northeast Asia describes the strategy force deployments and the military balance in potential current and future scenarios involving the Democratic People s Republic of Korea Republic of Korea People s Republic of China Japan and the United States The analysis in these volumes shows how tensions between the Koreas and the potential involvement of the China Japan Russia and the United States create a nearly open ended spectrum of possible conflicts These range from posturing and threats wars of intimidation to a major conventional conflict on the Korean Peninsula to intervention by outside powers like the United States and China to the extreme of nuclear conflict The analysis shows that the Korean balance is sharply affected by the uncertain mix of cooperation and competition between the United States and China The U S rebalancing of its forces to Asia and the steady modernization of Chinese forces in particular the growth of Chinese sea air

missile capabilities affect the balance in the Koreas and Northeast Asia They also raise the possibility of far more intense conflicts that could extend far beyond the boundaries of the Koreas The Military Balance 2024 The International Institute for Strategic Studies (IISS),2024-02-13 The Military Balance has been published since 1959 The 2024 edition provides an open source assessment of the armed forces and equipment inventories of over 170 countries with accompanying defence economics data In addition to detailed country data The Military Balance assesses region by region important military issues It includes graphics to illustrate defence personnel equipment and procurement developments The 65th edition examines emerging lessons from Russia's full scale invasion of Ukraine details Chinese military activity around Taiwan and identifies developments in uninhabited aerial vehicle exports The accompanying wallchart spotlights the important issues around critical national infrastructure in the Euro Atlantic The book draws on the breadth of data in the Military Balance online database The Military Balance and Military Balance are indispensable sources of information for those involved in defence and security policymaking analysis and research Asia's Naval Expansion Geoffrey Till,2012 The Asia Pacific region is likely to be the fulcrum of international security affairs in the twenty first century As the region's economies become stronger defense budgets are rising and navies are expanding and modernizing Some aspects of this procurement drive show signs of action reaction dynamics between peer competitors the hallmark of an arms race Is the Asia Pacific on the brink of an outright naval arms race that could entail vast expenditures threaten regional security and severely disrupt global trade Or can rising naval capabilities and a desire for prestige among regional powers be reconciled with economic interdependence freedom of navigation and managed competition between great powers This analyzes the naval expansion of the four major Asia Pacific powers the US China India and Japan It looks at recent and planned procurement to find examples of action reaction behavior and analyzes the underlying tensions and the potential for competition It offers an insight into the size expenditure and capability of the naval forces in each country and the role of the navy in overall military strategy examines naval philosophies and specific security concerns and how these will influence decision making and assesses how each nation's naval strategy is evolving in response not only to global threats but to shifts in the regional power balance Back cover

Report to Congress of the U.S.-China Economic and Security Review Commission U.S.-China Economic and Security Review Commission,2012 The Military Balance 2018 The International Institute for Strategic Studies (Iiss),2018-02-14 The Military Balance is an authoritative assessment of the military capabilities and defence economics of 171 countries Detailed A Z entries list each country's military organisation personnel numbers equipment inventories and relevant economic and demographic data Regional and select country analyses cover the major developments affecting defence policy and procurement and defence economics The opening graphics section displays notable defence statistics while additional data sets detail selected arms orders and military exercises as well as comparative defence expenditure and personnel numbers The Military Balance is an indispensable handbook for anyone conducting serious analysis of security policy and military affairs The International Institute for Strategic Studies founded in 1958 is an independent centre for research analysis and debate on the problems of conflict however caused that have or potentially have an important military dimension Amid continuing conflict and broadening insecurity The Military Balance provides essential facts and analysis for decision makers and for better informed public debate Because military affairs are inevitably clouded in fog the IISS Military Balance is an essential companion for those who seek to understand The Military Balance is widely recognised as the best unclassified source of defense information on personnel equipment and budgets for every country The Cyber Index James Andrew Lewis, Götz Neuneck, 2013 This paper assesses national and international activities and policies related to cybersecurity and cyberwarfare Through this assessment the authors establish a global overview of the key cybersecurity activities and threats to which states and international organizations have to respond They also examine if transparency and confidence building measures are applicable to cyberspace and propose potential norms rules and regulations to help deal with threats related to it The People's Liberation Army and Contingency Planning in China Andrew Scobell, Arthur S. Ding, Phillip Charles Saunders, Scott Harold, 2015 How will China use its increasing military capabilities in the future China faces a complicated security environment with a wide range of internal and external threats Rapidly expanding international interests are creating demands for the People's Liberation Army PLA to conduct new missions ranging from protecting Chinese shipping from Somali pirates to evacuating citizens from Libya The most recent Chinese defense white paper states that the armed forces must make serious preparations to cope with the most complex and difficult scenarios so as to ensure proper responses at any time and under any circumstances Based on a conference co sponsored by Taiwan's Council of Advanced Policy Studies RAND Carnegie Endowment for International Peace and National Defense University this book brings together leading experts from the United States and Taiwan to examine how the PLA prepares for a range of domestic border and maritime contingencies The book includes chapters on how the PLA domestic security forces and the civilian government conduct contingency planning and how military commanders can draw upon national level military assets and mobilize civilian resources to execute their plans Substantive chapters assess PLA planning for potential domestic contingencies such as suppressing internal unrest border contingencies involving India Myanmar North Korea Afghanistan and Central Asia and maritime contingencies in both the near and the far seas Authors also examine PLA preparations and performance in disaster relief counterpiracy and noncombatant evacuation operations Improving PLA capabilities are giving Chinese leaders new options to respond to domestic and international crises but the PLA still has significant limitations in projecting and sustaining power especially in contested environments Back cover Naval War College Review, 2018 The Middle East Military Balance, 1984 Mark Heller, Dov Tamari, 1984 U.S./Soviet Military Balance John M. Collins, 1983 India's Nuclear Triad Ajey Lele, Parveen Bhardwaj, 2013 The Gulf Military Balance Anthony H. Cordesman, 2012 The report shows that the Gulf military balance is dominated by five major groups of military forces the Southern Gulf states Iran Iraq outside powers like the US and non state actors like the various elements of Al Qaeda the Mahdi militia and various tribal forces These forces are evolving in many ways Iran now presents a major threat in terms of its asymmetric and proxy warfare assets its growing missile arsenal and its potential nuclear capability The growing political unrest and instability in the region is creating new internal security challenges Domestic unrest in countries like Yemen could create new threats that cross the Saudi and Omani borders The threat of terrorism has so far been contained but remains all too real and has driven many regional states to make major increases in their paramilitary security and special forces The rising threats from asymmetric and proxy warfare nuclear weapons internal security threats and terrorism make it difficult to assess the military balance Hard numbers are only available on classic measures of conventional military strength or the total size of new force elements like paramilitary and missile forces There is no clear way to measure the balance of conventional and irregular forces in asymmetric conflicts or how missiles and proliferation will affect the balance

India-ASEAN Defence Relations Ajaya Kumar Das,2013 The Great War ...: The wavering balance of forces, by G.H. Allen ... and others ,1919 The Military Balance 2020 International Institute for Strategic Studies,2020-02-14
Amid continuing conflict and broadening insecurity The Military Balance provides essential facts and analysis for decision makers and for better informed public debate The Military Balance is widely recognised as the best unclassified source of defense information on personnel equipment and budgets for every country Taiwan's Security Policy Michael Chase,2008
Confounding expectations Taiwan is reducing its military spending even as its sole adversary the People's Republic of China modernizes its military and significantly increases its defense budget Michael Chase examines the key factors that have shaped Taiwan's security policy over a span of three decades Chase explores both the role of US security assurances in formulating Taiwan's defense policy and the profound influence that domestic politics has played He also considers the context of cross Strait relations and the implications of Taiwan's security choices for potential instability and conflict in the region and beyond Relying on extensive Chinese language sources and interviews he offers the most definitive treatment of Taiwan's security policy to date
