Censorship and Student Communication in Online and Offline Settings

Oluwole, Joseph O., 2015-09-14 While freedom of speech is a defining characteristic of the United States the First Amendment right is often regulated within certain environments. For years schools have attempted to monitor and regulate student communication both within the educational environment and in student use of social media and other online communication tools. Censorship and Student Communication in Online and Offline Settings is a comprehensive reference source that addresses the issues surrounding student's right to free speech in on and off campus settings. Featuring relevant coverage on the implications of digital media as well as constitutional and legal considerations this publication is an essential resource for school administrators educators students and policymakers interested in uncovering the reasons behind student censorship and the challenges associated with the regulation of students free speech.

We the People Pamela Marx, 2001 Introduce students to each part of the Constitution by means of two page activity sheets a Read and Answer page that prompts them to find answers as they scour the Constitution's articles and amendments and a Take Another Look page that helps students develop the skills of thinking citizens through activities such as debating important issues researching today's leaders and more. A final You Be the Judge chapter poses three legal cases relating to different parts of the Constitution. After students write their opinions they read the Supreme Court's decision on a similar case. The full text of the Constitution is included.
