Science Experiments

Reading Comprehension

Read the passage and answer the questions that follow.

Science experiments are a way to test a hypothesis or to discover a new fact. They are a part of the scientific method, which is a way of thinking that is based on evidence and logic.

There are many different types of science experiments. Some are simple and can be done at home, while others are more complex and require special equipment.

One of the most important things to remember when doing a science experiment is to be careful. You should always wear your safety goggles and follow the instructions carefully.

Another important thing to remember is to keep accurate records of what you do and what you see. This will help you to understand the results of your experiment.

Science experiments are a fun and exciting way to learn about the world around us. They can help us to understand how things work and to discover new things.
